

Special Committee on the Course Evaluation System (CES) AY 2017-2018 Report to Faculty Senate

Committee members

Kelsie Aguilera

Jeremiah Boydston

Michael Oishi

Wayde Oshiro (co-chair)

Catherine Walker (co-chair)

Irwin Yamamoto

Accomplishments

- November 13-17, 2017: Online voting on a common question, an open-ended comment field, and sharing of results with division chairs.
- December 6, 2017: Ballot results shared at Faculty Senate. Due to a lack of consensus on the sharing of the results, the Ad Hoc Committee decided to have each division vote on this issue.
- December 13, 2017: The Ad Hoc Committee emailed Division Chairs with a request to take the decision on the sharing of CES results to their faculty. A deadline of January 19, 2018, was given to report back results to the committee. Committee members attended division meetings in January 2018 to explain CES and the sharing of results to faculty.
- February 21, 2018: The Ad Hoc Committee reported the division results to Faculty Senate. Five divisions voted for no sharing of CES results with the Division Chair and two divisions voted for sharing of CES results for all faculty with the Division Chair.
- May 2018: Collect existing course evaluation questions from the divisions and upload questions to an online repository that will be accessible to faculty.

Planned Actions in AY 2018-19

- The Ad Hoc Committee will assist the CES campus administrators with the implementation of the new system in Fall 2018 in accordance with the decisions made by the faculty.